Burntsand Architect on Short List for MSDN Award

Toronto, ON. February 11, 2008 – Burntsand, Inc. (Burntsand) (TSX: BRT), a leading North American provider of Integrated Information Management Solutions, today announced that SharePoint architect Graham Sibley has been named a finalist for the prestigious Microsoft Developers Network Code Award. The award is in recognition of original, visionary or community minded development in Canada. The winner will be announced May 24, 2008.

Graham's submission, Viewpoints, seeks to dramatically reduce the amount of manual construction required for custom .NET enterprise application development. Using Visual Studio, it captures business-focused requirements in visual models and applies implementation-focused transformation templates to those models to generate the application code.

"We are very proud of Graham's accomplishment and his ongoing efforts to speed up and simplify the enterprise application development process." said Marty Glover, Burntsand's CEO. "This type of work showcases our consultants' commitment to being among the best in the world when it comes to technical expertise and their desire to find the best solutions for our clients. We wish Graham the best of luck in the finals."
